"Our involvement in the new Inside-Out Sports Triathlon Series is not only in name, as we will have a much larger expo presence at events throughout the series and will provide participants of the series exciting new offerings to enhance their experience and enjoyment."

As title sponsor of the series, Inside-Out Sports will offer participants unique registration opportunities, including in-store registrations for certain events after an event has sold out. In addition, they will post same day preliminary race results on the Inside-Out Sports website, located at www.insideoutsports.com.

"Partnering with Inside-Out Sports on the former NCTS is a natural fit for us, said Jeremy Davis, President, Set Up Events. "It's a great opportunity to join resources to maximize the event experience for race participants, and to continue the momentum of tremendous growth triathlons have experienced over the past decade.
